TOMORROW: Special Presentation at TIE Committee

Tomorrow is the first Transportation, Infrastructure and Environment (TIE) Committee meeting of 2018, and we're kicking it off with something new. Shane Phillips will have a "2017 year in review" presentation, looking back at the many projects, policies, and stakeholder groups that CCA engaged within the past year. It will be a great chance for members to get an overview of (and ask questions about) the many exciting and important things happening in Downtown, including new streetscape plans, City and Metro projects, changes to water and energy policy, and new transportation policies that will change the way housing and offices are developed in LA. Whether you come to TIE regularly or only rarely, this one is not to miss.

To see the full list of topics that will be covered, you can download the presentation here. The meeting will also include an LADOT update on My Figueroa, and a short presentation by BlueLA, a new electric vehicle car-share program in Central LA. See you there!

(Open to Business Advocacy, Executive and Premier-level members only.)
